I alone outweigh entire Oppn: PM in fiery speech

An aggressive Modi tells the Opposition that their allegations will only help BJP win polls

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday unleashed an unusually sharp attack against the Opposition, saying no matter how many members raise slogans to shout him down, he can singlehandedly handle them all.

"Desh dekh raha hai, ek akela kitno ko bhari padh raha hai (the country is watching how one person has outweighed so many)," he said in his fiery speech during his reply to the debate on the motion of thanks to the President's address in the Rajya Sabha.

Thumping his chest amid the Opposition's shouting 'Modi-Adani, bhai-bhai', the PM said he lives for the country, which has rattled the Opposition parties so much that they are throwing muck after muck at him to see what sticks.

When Modi was speaking, Opposition members continued to disrupt his speech by raising slogans on the Adani controversy. "Jitna keechad uchhalo, kamal utna hee zyada khilega (the more dirt you throw at the BJP, the bigger the lotus will bloom)," an aggressive Modi said to thunderous applause from his party colleagues.

Training his guns on the Gandhi family, which accused the Centre of ignoring India's first PM Jawaharlal Nehru's efforts in nation-building, Modi asked if Nehru was so great, how come his scions don't use his surname. "Why shy away from using 'Nehru' surname?"

he taunted the Gandhis.

The PM said while the Congress named 600-odd government schemes after the Nehru-Gandhi family, it never tried to sort out the country's problems on a permanent basis. "What they preach now in politics has never been practised by them when they were in power for over four decades," he added.

elected governments 90 times by misusing Article 356. Indira Gandhi used it 50 times to dismiss governments, he said, explaining how elected governments of the Left in Kerala, N T Rama Rao in Andhra, Sharad Pawar in Maharashtra and M G Ramachandran in Tamil Nadu were toppled. Mocking the Opposition, he said today these parties are sitting with the Congress, which he said is bothered only about its ambitions and not the welfare of the nation.

MINDS MEET AT THINKEDU

Day-1 of conclave offers a platform for perspectives on contemporary issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

TO concur, dissent, or agree to disagree! The 11th edition of The New Indian Express ThinkEdu Conclave, which opened to a series of discussions and debates in Chennai, did not fail to keep up with its rich legacy. The two-day education conclave that began at ITC Grand Chola on Thursday turned out to be a gathering of India's intellectual best that had come together to present perspectives on contemporary issues.

"Education has been allotted the highest-ever budgetary funding of ₹1.12 lakh crore this year keeping the aspirations of the Amrit Pechhi (youth power) in mind," said Dharmendra Pradhan, Union Education Minister, in his address to the august crowd. According to him, the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, a "philosophical document", will cater to this need.

While delivering the inaugural address, UU Lalit, former Chief Justice of India, said the objective of law is not different from other branches of knowledge, which is to usher in a transition from darkness to enlightenment. In the Q&A session that ensued, he said there is no need for a change in the collegium system.

Day-1 of the conclave was packed with several interesting sessions with thinkers, educators, changemakers, professors, vice-chancellors and politicians making a conscious effort to present an array of subjects to public discourse.

Palanivel Thiaga Rajan, Tamil Nadu finance minister, was at his candid best when he made a forceful argument on TN's growth model. P7

A Bengaluru school has come under heavy criticism from the public and the Education Department for failing a six-year-old child. St. Joseph Chaminade Academy, situated in Anekal, has been served a notice and threatened with withdrawal of affiliation, following a viral post in which the father of the child has alleged that his daughter, studying in upper kindergarten (UKG) has been failed in her examination.

"We have approached the school management and the managing trust as well, but they refused to do anything. The principal trustee said that as no other parents have objected to such things, they can't do anything for a single child," said Manoj Badal, the parent of the UKG student.

Further, he also alleged that the school's principal had "suggested" that failing the student would ensure that she would study properly in the future.

'Funny' skit takes casteist turn at campus fest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A skit performed on February 6 by students of Centre for Management Studies, Jain Deemed University, at a fest on their campus has caused an outrage for all the wrong reasons.

The skit by a group of students named The Delroys Boys, ended up with casteist dialogues, even targeting the father of the Indian Constitution and champion of backward classes, Dr BR Ambedkar, besides using words like "untouchability" to push humour.

The competition was about advertising imaginary products at the event called Mad Ads. Police said judges at the competition demanded an apology from the students. An anonymous petition has also been filed demanding a public apology from the students. The Delroys Boys, late on Thursday, issued an apology on Instagram.

Ace journo claims US blew up Nord Stream pipelines

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

PULITZER Prize winning US investigative reporter Seymour Hersh in a self-published report just dropped a bombshell, alleging it was the US, not Russia, which blew up the Nord Stream gas pipelines.

Hersh said the US Navy's divers planted explosives on the pipelines with help from Norway. "Last June, the Navy divers, operating under the cover of a widely publicized mid-summer NATO exercise known as BALTOPS 22, planted the remotely triggered explosives that, three months later, destroyed three of the four Nord Stream pipelines, according to a source with direct knowledge of the operational planning," Hersh wrote on his blog.

In September last year, a series of explosions led to leaks on Nord Stream pipelines that carry gas from Russia to Europe. The US and its European allies pointed fingers at Russia, accusing Kremlin of sabotaging them amid tensions with the West over the Ukraine war. The decision to bomb the pipelines was made in secret by US President Joe Biden to cut off Moscow's ability to earn billions of dollars from natural gas sales to Europe, writes Hersh.

The White House has rejected the report, calling it "complete fiction".

Kremlin predictably endorsed it, saying it is "very serious" and "needs to be given attention".

Henceforth, vehicles on this stretch can move freely without any traffic snarls. Recently, I witnessed heavy traffic on HAL Road and directed officials to give suggestions. Based on their feedback, this work has been completed on priority," Bommai said.

He further added that the construction of 11 flyovers is sanctioned under the Amrit Nagarothana Scheme. "It is for the first time in the history of Bengaluru that 11 flyovers have been sanctioned in one go. These big changes will provide long-lasting solutions to the people of Bengaluru. Under the same scheme, Rs 3,000 crore grant had been released for the construction of roads," Bommai added.

Tractor owners protest vehicle ban in city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NEARLY 3,000 tractor owners and labourers protested at Freedom Park on Thursday against the Bangalore Traffic Police's order banning movement of such vehicles in the city. The tractor owners' association said there are more than 35,000 tractors in the city and nearly two lakh labourers have been affected by this restriction.

Nearly a month back, the traffic police banned the movement of tractors in the city. "We are involved in garbage collection, lifting of silt from drains, and shifting of construction materials like hollow bricks, sand, metal rods and others. What will happen to tractor owners and nearly 2 lakh labourers who are dependent on this? Traffic police have restricted tractors, citing that they affect the free flow of traffic," said Basavaraju Padukote, president of Namma Karnataka Sene, who is heading the protest in association with Bangalore Tractor Owner's Association, Bangalore Building Workers' Association and others.

"We have met Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and submitted a requisition letter to withdraw the ban. He has responded positively and told us that he will convene a meeting with ADGP and Special Commissioner of Police (Traffic) M A Saleem," said Padukote.

Tractor owners will wait for another two days and if the traffic police do not allow their vehicles in the city, they will block national highways and intensify their protest, he said.

Ex-minister orders action against school

Following the post, former education minister Suresh Kumar hit out at the school and said that he has contacted the authorities to ensure that necessary action is taken against the school. According to screenshots posted by the former minister, the UKG student had scored a total of 100 out of 160 marks in four subjects and she secured 62.5 per cent, but was still marked as failed.

The school management said that the issue had stemmed from the school using a mobile app to declare marks which automatically marked the student as failed.

Anekal BEO Jayalakshmi said a notice has been sent to the school and the department was awaiting clarification, failing which the school will lose its affiliation. "You have been asked to submit a written response, failure of which will result in the suspension of the licence," the notice read.

HC seeks report from civic agencies on illegal hoardings

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) to file a report indicating whether there were any periodical checks on illegal hoardings and, if not, to identify the officials responsible for failing in their duty.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order after hearing amicus curiae Vikram Huilgol and petitioner Mayige Gowda.

On February 7, 2020, the state government issued a circular through the police department to lodge criminal cases under Section 3 of the Karnataka Open Places (Prevention of Disfigurement) Act against those who put up advertisements in a public space without taking permission from the competent authority.

The court, while issuing directions to the BBMP and BDA, noted that putting up of illegal hoardings is rampant and no steps have been taken to prevent this even after more than three years of the government circular. The court directed them to inform whether top officials have issued the circular to their subordinates in view of earlier directions of the court banning illegal hoardings. It sought details of any action if initiated against tackling illegal hoardings.

If such action has not been initiated till date, the authorities of BBMP and BDA should initiate action pursuant to the circular dated February 7, 2020, namely registration of FIRs against the offenders.

In case senior officials find that there was dereliction of duty of subordinate officials, necessary action should be initiated against them and details should be provided, the court ordered.

PETER VIDAL

10th February: I would pick out Virgo as a key sign for the coming period. My reasoning is that this is the most careful sign, and this is a careless time. Therefore those of us who follow Virgoan rules manage the details of our lives with great precision will win out in the end. Those of us who leave everything to chance could be the losers!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Financially you may feel you're on to a winner, but keep your own counsel and be wary of friends who come up with bright ideas. Social costs are likely to spiral over the next two weeks, and you may have to act fast to avoid paying for something which is nothing to do with you.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

For quite some time you appear to have buried your head in the sand as far as one or two personal situations are concerned. With lunar influences so strong today, this could be a good moment to lift your head above the parapet and say what you think.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

For once your lively and controversial tongue may be still in fact, it would do you a power of good to stop and consider all personal matters, especially family arrangements. The least thing you want to do now is reveal something which ought to be kept under wraps.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

If you have anything to get off your chest you should do so today, especially if friends are involved. Only if money is an issue may you prevaricate and put off the big day until tomorrow. Plus, of course, you don't want to offend someone that you rely on!

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

You are being pulled in two directions. But which way should you jump? As far as anyone can see, you have done an extremely good job of standing your ground and, for that, you deserve full respect. Do yourself a favour and sort out a cash question sooner rather than later.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sept 23)

This is an extraordinarily helpful day, even though it may be that the only matters you have to deal with are rather insignificant. If you have not yet bridged the gap with a friend, do so today. And, if you have fallen out with someone, how about an apology?

LIBRA (Sept 24 - Oct 23)

It could be an extravagant day, and the only reason for caution could be if you are spending other people's money. In love you need physical affection and reassurance, and at work, you should be considering promotion. It's about time that your true talents were appreciated.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

It's an ideal moment to hold out the hand of friendship, even to people who in the past have been rivals rather than supporters. It would also be very useful to take a little financial advice before you are pushed into a corner and make an embarrassing loss.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 22)

A whole host of planets passing through challenging regions of your chart means that you must let other people seize the initiative. This is not obligatory, but if you try to take the lead yourself it may rebound on you, perhaps because you've overlooked certain fundamental details.

CAPRICORN (Dec 23 - Jan 20)

You simply have to buy time in personal and romantic matters. You may continue to do your best, to make new friends, or to enjoy a current relationship, but you should realise that there are still many changes on the way. And, when they come, you might have to rethink certain long-term plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

There are periods when you need to spend a little more time at home or dealing with important family issues. This is one of them, so hopefully relations will play ball. In love, the lesson is that relationships need to be worked at - no effort should be spared!

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

You will be able to express yourself with skill and precision, not to say poetic imagination. This is therefore an excellent moment to appeal to other people, persuading them that they must do what you say! But will you succeed? Well, yes - at least part of the time.

OBSERVING that delay in considering the applications for maintenance would defeat the very purpose which is to give succour to the wife who leaves, or is made to leave the matrimonial house, the Karnataka High Court has set a six-month timeline for all family courts in the state to consider the application filed by the wife and to pass appropriate orders on interim maintenance from the husband.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while enhancing maintenance from Rs 15,000 to Rs 50,000, and litigation expenses from Rs 50,000 to Rs 1 lakh, on the petition filed by a 40-year-old woman. The court concerned shall endeavour to conclude proceedings in the matrimonial dispute within nine months, the judge said.

"The courts concerned shall adhere to the timeline, as the wife should not be made to wait for years together; to get a certain amount of maintenance from the husband. In many a case, the wife would be driven to penury, the moment she walks out of the matrimonial house for manifold reasons. To avoid this, the timeline should be strictly followed," the court said.

Mentioning that the petitioner's case was decided by the family court 30 months after filing of the application, the court said it is flooded with cases where maintenance is ordered, which according to the wife is inadequate, and she seeks enhancement of maintenance. The petitions are filed by the husband, contending that maintenance be paid from the date of application which suddenly amounts to a lot of money, and would seek reduction or defers payment to the wife and so on.

HIGH COURT DIRECTIVES FOR CONSIDERING APPLICATIONS

Notice on wife's application be issued immediately

Service through e-mail/WhatsApp valid

Court to grant 2 months to husband to file objections

Wife to get 2 months to file statement of assets and liabilities

After hearing parties, court to pass orders within 4 months

Outer limit for deciding application is 6 months from date of filing

To achieve this, court should restrain from granting unnecessary adjournments

STEM CELL DONOR, RECIPIENT MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A techie from Bengaluru, who is also a stem cell donor to a blood cancer survivor from Punjab, met the recipient for the first time in the city on Thursday. Coincidentally, both have the same name, Mandeep Singh.

Mandeep (35), a farmer, is a blood cancer survivor from Punjab who was diagnosed with Chronic Myeloid Leukaemia in 2009. He was advised to undergo a stem cell transplant. Sharing his ordeal, he said, "I struggled to find a matching donor in my family for 10 years. It was only in 2019 when an unrelated donor was identified by DKMS BMST Foundation India that my surgery became possible in January 2020." As per international guidelines, the identity of both the blood stem cell donor and the recipient should be kept anonymous for a period of two years and thereafter depending on their wish they can meet. Mandeep (39), the donor, said his wife is also a cancer patient and hence he could understand the family's pain. He said he registered at a stem cell donation drive organised at his office in 2018. He was always eager to meet the recipient, he shared.

On World Cancer Day, the DKMS-BMST Foundation organised the meeting of the donor and the recipient to create awareness about stem cell donation in India. Patrick Paul, CEO of the Foundation, said since cancer is a major cause of death, it is important to create awareness about treatment of blood cancer, which is curable through stem cell donation, he added.

Woman, mom land at baby shower of hubby's 'other wife', assaulted

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A baby shower turned violent when a woman and her mother were reportedly assaulted by her husband and his family members in Chandra Layout on Thursday afternoon.

Tejus and his family are accused of assaulting Chaitra and her mother. Tejus and Chaitra got married in 2018. Due to a troubled marriage, a divorce petition was filed before the court. Much before the divorce, Chaitra found out that her husband had married another woman, whose baby shower was on Thursday. Since Tejus had lied to the court that he was single and had not married anybody, Chaitra and her relatives came to his house to collect proof and to submit the same in court. Marrying another woman without divorcing the first wife is illegal. Upset over their coming, Tejus and his family allegedly assaulted Chaitra and her family.

Chetan, Chaitra's brother, said the latter got married to Tejus in April 2018.

"At the time of marriage, Tejus had claimed that he was a PWD contractor. After the wedding, Chaitra found out that Tejus had multiple affairs. We asked him to mend his ways and to take care of my sister properly. But he did not listen. Even his mother took her son's side. Tejus had also brutally slapped Chaitra, which resulted in one of her ears requiring surgery," Chetan alleged.

Chaitra and her mother have been hospitalised. The hospital, after registering a medico-legal case, has reported the matter to the police.

Chandra Layout police were shocked to see a 30-year-old delivery agent walk into the police station on Thursday afternoon, shouting that he had consumed poison. Police rushed him to a nearby hospital. The delivery agent, Anil, is a resident of Chandra Layout. He reportedly had issues with his friend Leela (40), who is into social service

CABINET DISCUSSES SC/ST QUOTA HIKE FOR 9TH SCHEDULE?

Law Minister Madhu Swamy denies issue was taken up; Recruitment, promotions to be based on new quota

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru, Davanagere

THE Karnataka cabinet on Thursday is said to have decided to recommend to the Centre to include its decision on a hike in SC/ST quota in the 9th Schedule of the Constitution.

Sources said the cabinet discussed recommending the hike in quota from 15 per cent to 17 per cent for SCs, and 3 per cent to 7 per cent for STs, to be included in the 9th Schedule. Ever since the government took a decision to hike the quota, the opposition Congress was urging that it be included in the Ninth Schedule.

However, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy clarified that the decision to recommend it be sent to the Centre to be included in the Ninth Schedule, was not taken at Thursday's cabinet meeting. "We will discuss it in the legislature session," he quipped, sidestepping the question. According to sources, the government will soon send the proposal to the Centre.

Meanwhile, taking a dig at his opponents, Chief Minister

Basavaraj Bommai said in Davanagere that he knows how to take the reservation enhancement further, and there is no need to learn lessons from opposition parties.

Addressing the concluding ceremony of the two-day Valmiki Jatra programme at Rajanahalli Gurupet, he said the Justice Nagmohan Das Committee set up to discuss enhancement of reservation for scheduled tribes was dormant till the BJP came to power, and it was the BJP government which got the report. Based on the extensive study conducted by the Commission, the inter-ministerial team and legal experts' decision was taken and formally made a law. "I know how to get it into the 9th Schedule," Bommai said.

He said fresh recruitment and promotion of existing officials will be taken up on the new reservation policy, which was implemented from January 1, 2023. It will help future generations avail of better educational facilities and jobs. The government is committed to ensure there are no legal hurdles. He also said the state government is committed to get land for eligible STs who are interested in farming, and Rs 25 lakh will be given for purchase of the lands. Along with this, 75 units of free power is provided to SC/STs, Rs 2 lakh incentive is being provided to STs for construction of houses, hostels and hostel intake has been enhanced, and self-employment is supported in a big way for ST youths.

In Harihar, Bommai said he is chief minister because of the support of the people and Prime Minister Narendra Modi. During his 18-minute speech, he did not refer to his predecessor CM BS Yediyurappa.

New agri policy likely in Bommai's Feb 17 budget

ASHWINI M SRIPAD
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai is likely to announce a new agricultural policy for Karnataka in the State Budget to be presented on February 17.

This policy will focus on the maintaining and improving soil quality through natural farming and will also encourage farmers to grow millets.

In his maiden budget presented last year, Bommai had set aside Rs 33,700 crore for agriculture and allied sectors. Several initiatives, including Raitha Shakti where farmers would be given financial aid to buy machinery, were announced. He had also announced a diesel subsidy of Rs 250 per acre subject to a maximum of 5 acres.

Bommai had recently announced that priority would be given to farmers in this year's budget.

The recent Union Budget had allocated Rs 1.25 lakh crore for farmers. The Union Budget also set aside Rs 5,300 crore for the much-awaited Upper Bhadra project which will help irrigate land in Central Karnataka.

Informed sources told TNIE that a proposal has been sent to the CM to announce the Karnataka agricultural policy that will focus on quality of soil. With over use of chemicals, there is a dip in soil quality. To help improve soil quality, there is a need to practice natural farming, sources added. "We are hopeful of the CM announcing the new policy in the upcoming budget," sources said, adding that even Agriculture Minister BC Patil has shown interest in reviving soil quality.

The Agriculture Department has also proposed to Bommai to include agriculture tourism where people can spend time at farms along with farmers. "Through this, we want to bridge the gap between common people and farmers," sources added.

The department has also proposed the 'Jalanidhi' scheme which will be similar to Krishi Honda (agriculture pond) scheme. This scheme is expected to recharge groundwater and help in retaining soil moisture.

"We have also requested the CM to announce schemes to encourage farmers to grow millets. Karnataka is in the forefront of growing millets. This year is the International Year of Millet. Hence, there is a need to encourage farmers to grow millets," sources said.

The cabinet also authorised Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to fill a vacant post of a member in the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC).

Approval was also given to upgrade 30 ITIs out of the total 150, at an estimated cost of Rs 927 crore, of which Rs 113 will be borne by the state government and the remaining by Tata Technologies, as part of their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiative. In order to increase satellite data resolution, Rs 18 crore more will be spent to procure data.

The Karnataka Renewable Energy Policy 2022-2027 has been amended by increasing the area of land to generate per MW of power from 3.5 acres to 4 acres.

The other cabinet decisions include, setting up a government tool room and training centre at Bommai's hometown Shiggavi at a cost of Rs 73.75 crore, a multi-skill training centre at a boys' hostel at Nelagola in Haveri at a cost of Rs 37.55 crore, a Vistara Soudha at Soraba to bring all government offices under one roof, which will be constructed at an estimated cost of Rs 49.60 crore, construction of Madikeri District Police Office at a cost of Rs 12 crore, approval for the revised estimation of Chikkaballapura-Nelamangala road at Rs 10.13 crore, implementation of a multi-village drinking water project for 122 villages in Chamarajanagar at a cost of Rs 26 crore, of which the Centre's share will be Rs 11.5 crore and the state's contribution Rs 14.5 crore.

A multi-storied commercial complex will come up at Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport premises in Kalaburagi at a cost of Rs 26 crore.

Madhuswamy also expressed hope that Karnataka would succeed in the legal battle in getting 25 per cent quota for Kannadigas in the National Law School of India University (NLSUI), which is coming up for hearing in the Supreme Court on Friday. "The Karnataka High Court had struck down the appeal following which we appealed before the Supreme Court", he said.

Budget likely to be vote-on-account, says Horatti

Kalaburagi: The BJP government may present a vote-on-account budget in the session commencing Friday, and is likely to be passed before February 24, the last day of the session, said Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti on Thursday. Horatti said though the government has the right to present a full budget, it has been the practice of past governments to present a vote-on-account budget if the elections to the Assembly are to take place within a few months of the budget session. He said attendance in the session may be low as politicians would be busy in campaigning. On decision taken a few years ago to run the session for at least 60 days and a maximum of 100 days in a year, he said on 2-3 occasions the session was held for more than 60 days in a year. Talking about discipline among legislators in the House, Horatti said it would be difficult to bring discipline among the legislators in the session as most of them are elected representatives. ENS

SESSION FROM TODAY, ELECTION SHADOW COULD AFFECT QUORUM

THE Karnataka Legislature session will begin on Friday with Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot's address to the joint sitting of the legislature. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will present the budget on February 17. The session is likely to witness poor attendance as legislators cutting across party lines are busy with election-related work.

JDS leader and former Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy, who is busy with Pancharatna Yatra, is unlikely to attend the session and another former CM Siddaramaiah, who is also the Leader of Opposition in the Assembly, is likely to attend the session for a few days, including the budget day. Siddaramaiah is busy with Praja Dhvani Yatra in North Karnataka. KPCC chief DK Shivakumar, who is heading the yatra in South Karnataka, is also likely to attend the session for just a few days.

Bommai and senior BJP leaders are also busy with election work and they will be managing the session and party work, as well as VVIPs to the poll-bound state. Prime Minister Narendra Modi will be in Bengaluru to inaugurate Aero India 2023 on Monday.

Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri appealed to the members to attend the session and take part in the debates with utmost seriousness. He said looking at the schedule of the leaders, his job of conducting the proceedings smoothly is likely to be easy, he said indicating that many legislators are likely to abstain from the session.

Kageri said the session is slated to take up seven bills, including Kannada Language Comprehensive Bill and six private universities Bill and they have received 1,300 questions from the members. The members will discuss the budget proposals from February 20 to 24, the Speaker said.

State govt hikes excise target from ₹29K cr to ₹32K cr ahead of Budget

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government has revised the revenue state excise target for financial year 2022-23 from Rs 29,000 crore to Rs 32,000 crore, days before the forthcoming Budget on February 17.

The government letter on the revised revenue target was issued around 10 days ago. Increase in liquor consumption by 20 to 30 per cent, and a boom in the F&B industry are said to be major reasons behind the "aspirational" and midway increase in excise revenue target by an additional Rs 3,000 crore.

The speculation is that while Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai may not increase Additional Excise Duty (AED) on alcohol in an election year, he may, if at all, further push the revenue target of state excise by another Rs 2,000 crore to Rs 3,000 crore in the Budget announcement next week. "Alcohol consumption has gone through the roof and so has liquor real estate. The number of swanky and expensive new liquor boutiques in the city indicate the health of the industry," said an informed source.

But critics of a further hike in revenue excise target say the latter has not achieved its original target of Rs 29,000 crore, and it might be difficult to achieve an additional hike of Rs 3,000 crore by March-end. "It's a target given to them by the government, and they have to achieve it," the sources added.

According to figures shared by the excise department, revenue collected from April 2022 to January 2023 was Rs 24,724.27 crore, which is 85.26 per cent of the revenue target of Rs 29,000 crore. By comparison, in the last FY 2021-22, state excise had collected Rs 21,549.94 crore, which was 87.67 per cent of that year's target of Rs 24,580 crore.

Last year, an unprecedented jump of Rs 4,420 crore from Rs 24,580 crore in 2021-22 to Rs 29,000 crore in FY 2022-23 was seen as a bold move in the post-pandemic year.

A look at revenue targets of the department in the past few years show a gradual increase ranging between Rs 1,000 crore and Rs 1,500 crore every year. The annual financial target for 2020-21 was Rs 22,700 crore, and Rs 24,580 crore for 2021-22. For 2019-2020, it was kept at Rs 20,950 crore and Rs 19,750 crore for FY 2018-19.

G20 meet discusses land restoration, forest fires

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

RESTORING degraded land and mitigating forest fires were among the key issues that were discussed at the first Environment and Climate Sustainability Working Group Meeting which India is spearheading as part of the G20 summit, said CP Goyal, Director General of Forest and Special Secretary, Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change.

He added that the best practices from the G20 countries will be picked and incorporated in India.

Addressing the media here on Thursday, Goyal said India's priorities under the theme of 'eco-restoration of degraded landscapes and enhancement of biodiversity' would be to enhance 50% reduction in degraded lands by 2040. He said that India is committed to restoring 25 million hectares and sequestering additional 2.5 to 3 tonnes of CO2 by 2030.

In the two last decades, 29% of global forest loss is attributed to forest fires. G20 countries represent nearly 80% of the tree cover in the world.

Nearly 23% of forest area is highly fire-prone in India. Some of the key learnings from the forest fire restoration are to use technology for monitoring and reduce response time and involve local communities in forest fire management, Goyal added.

He added that best practices and new technologies in mitigating forest fires were discussed with G20 countries and efforts will be taken towards restoration of forest fire-impacted areas for recovering biodiversity.

After the meeting, the G20 delegates were taken for a site visit to the Kalkere Arboretum and Bannerghatta Biological Park.

Attempt made to kill my other son too: Fazil's dad

ENS @ Mangaluru

UMMAR Farooq, father of Mohammed Fazil who was murdered in Surathkal in August 2022, has alleged that miscreants attempted to kill his elder son Adil on Wednesday night.

In a video statement, Farooq said Adil was returning from Ullal where he had been for some work related to the murder case of Fazil when he was attacked. "When he reached Ganeshpura, a group of men intentionally rammed into his car and assaulted him. Later, they tried to project the incident as road rage. But it is a pre-planned murder attempt. They were brandishing weapons. My son has suffered injuries to his face and chest," Farooq said. Mangaluru City Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar also termed the incident as a case of road rage. Farooq said that he had earlier lodged a complaint against VHP leader Sharan Pumpwell after the latter openly claimed that the Hindutva workers murdered Fazil to avenge the killing of BJP worker

Praveen Netaru. Both the parties have lodged complaints. In his complaint, one Nagesh has accused Adil of using foul language and assaulting him. In the counter complaint, Adil has named Preethan Shetty, Akash, Prakash, Harshith and an unknown person for ramming into his car, issuing death threats and assaulting him.

Asked about him being targeted by right wing groups, he said, "When they did not spare Shivaji Maharaj, Jagajyoti Basaveshwara, Gautam Buddha, Mahatma Gandhi and Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar, how can they spare me now? Their weapons are slander, abuse and provocation. I will not fear any of these. I stand by my statement that they are going to install a leader of the Peshwa lineage in Vidhana Soudha as CM. Why is the BJP not responding to this question?"

LAW STUDENTS SHOULD DO RURAL INTERNSHIP: EX-CJI

UU LALIT SAYS THERE IS NO NEED TO CHANGE THE CURRENT COLLEGIUM SYSTEM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

FORMER Chief Justice of India (CJI) UU Lalit on Thursday called for mandatory internships for law students to work with the rural population, similar to internships for medical students. The burning collegium controversy was briefly touched upon too, and when asked if there is a need to change the system, his answer was an emphatic no.

Speaking on 'Why Study Law: Social Duty and Legal Responsibility' at the inaugural session of the 11th edition of TNIE ThinkEdu Conclave, Lalit, said, "Study of law must not be confined to universities and colleges, but must be open to the masses and the societal apparatus. It is time that emphasis should be given to internships where students will have to work with the rural population, interact with them, understand their problems and the challenges faced by them."

Lalit said there should be one year of compulsory internships for those who pursue law. He added, "These examples will make them aware of the infirmities of that population and turn them into complete professionals and good human beings."

The internship process will help make the rural population aware of their legal rights and make legal aid more accessible to them, he added.

"In courses like medicine, where, after a student graduates, the person has to give it back to society by serving as an intern in rural areas, why not in the legal profession? Why is it that the service of rural areas is the prerogative only of medical professionals?" he asked, advocating for the need for the internship system.

Sharing his experience as the chairperson NALSA (National Legal Services Authority), Lalit said since almost 66% of our population is below the poverty line, almost two-thirds of the legal matters involving them should be in the hands of legal aid services.

However, hardly 15% of this population is able to avail legal aid services. Poor people in rural areas still mortgage their properties and pay high-interest rates to fight their legal cases, he said and added, this problem needs to be solved and is against legal principles.

He also spoke about the proposal he has mooted for the appointment of legal aid defence counsel in each district, on the lines of public prosecutors.

PTR SAYS HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IS AT CORE OF TN MODEL

Finance Minister Palaniivel Thiaga Rajan speaks at the ThinkEdu Conclave session on 'The Tamil Nadu Model: Lessons for India', on Thursday | R SATISH BABU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THE hallmark of the Tamil Nadu model is the human capital and a harmonious society, said Tamil Nadu Finance Minister P Thiaga Rajan at the TNIE ThinkEdu Conclave, on the topic 'The Tamil Nadu Model: Lessons for India', chaired by author and analyst Shankkar Aiyar.

Commenting on the 'Revdi culture debate,' he said that the first question that comes up is who decides what is populist. "Some of the freebies will be accretive. Some will have mixed outcomes - they will add some value and also create inflation/some other problems. So these things need to be thought of carefully," he said.

He said that providing free television was also on the principle of social justice but it provided ancillary benefits that were not expected. "Then CM Karunanidhi wanted to make sure that nobody had to stand outside other people's house and watch television," he said, adding it had additional benefits of rural people becoming aware of the world and increasing presence of women in the workforce.

Replying to the question that Tamil Nadu spends ₹1 lakh crore in subsidies while the total expenditure of all the states put together on subsidies is ₹3 lakh crore, he said that the state's finances were in a really good shape with schemes that are considered freebies since Fiscal Responsibility & Budget Management (FRBM) Act was passed in 2014. "Last year, we showed a huge improvement in the debt-to-GDP ratio. This year, there will be another huge improvement because I am making the budget numbers ready. About 90% slide of seven years would be wiped out in two years. We have not changed our philosophy that human development would be at the core of it," he said.

Comparing the mid-day meals scheme and the morning breakfast scheme introduced by the DMK recently, he said that more than 50-60% of funding is spent on salaries in the midday meals scheme so the delivery model was improved for the breakfast scheme but the principle remains the same. "We want to feed the children because that is the greatest investment we can make in our future. Our model of success starts with letting people be well-fed, well-educated and becoming healthy human beings. The rest of it will fall in place. Another model will say let me build roads, let me build ports and then they will come. That is the union's model," he said.

The minister added the fiscal deficit was 5.21% before DMK took over out of which 3.25% was revenue deficit. "Based on the reports already submitted in the Assembly, we will now be trending towards maybe 1 or 1.25% revenue deficit. In a growing economy, it is the job of the government to borrow up to 3% and borrowing for capital expenditure is a good thing," he added.

For being called a voice of dissent, the minister said, "I am the establishment. I am the finance minister in a large industrial state, one of the biggest economies in the country. If I am seen as a voice of dissent, something is structurally wrong."

If India is mother of democracy, dissent is its firstborn child: Omar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

"THE prime minister recently said that he considers India to be the mother of democracy. So if India is the mother of democracy, then I believe dissent is democracy's firstborn child," former Jammu & Kashmir Chief Minister Omar Abdullah said on Thursday. Speaking at the 11th edition of the TNIE ThinkEdu Conclave 2023 in Chennai, Abdullah highlighted the importance of dissent in a democratic society.

"Small things like Facebook posts can result in arbitrary arrests; cartoons and comedy sketches have seen people being arrested. None of this is healthy for this country," said Abdullah. The former chief minister highlighted the injustice of his eight-month detention for no reason but his disagreement with the government. Speaking about Article 370, he said he is hopeful. "Because if the government had a strong case to make in the Supreme Court, they would have done everything possible to ensure the hearings had started by now," he said.

'NEP not govt policy, but policy of people'

"THE National Education Policy (NEP) is not a policy of a particular political government but it is a policy of the people," remarked Milind Marathe, former assistant professor, KJ Somaiya College of Engineering. Elaborating on the impact of technology on education, Marathe said that about three crore students enrolled on the SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active-Learning for Young Aspiring Minds) platform only for online courses. While noting the positive impact of NEP during the session - Education, Technology and NEP 2020: What Lies Ahead - Marathe said one must also "scream out the bad side of the policy."

"NEP, among other provisions, had also envisioned the establishment of National Educational Technology Forum (NETF). However, the body wasn't enhanced by updating it with the latest technology and skill set that students and faculty require," said Jayaprakash Gandhi, career consultant and analyst and also the chair for the session.

Despite the uncertainties, an "online engagement" model would be possible in the next five to 10 years, said Dr Andrew Thangaraj, professor, IIT-Madras and National Coordinator for SWAYAM. "While 85 to 90 lakh children join educational institutions every year, a very small fraction of them go to IITs. There is frustration in the admission process," he added.

'Film institute faced vicious propaganda'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

"IT is a calculated, planned and scripted attack on the institution. Many teachers resigned saying that the institution has no future. Very vicious propaganda has been spread against the institute. I'm sad that the institute is getting a bad name, but I'm happy that now it has reached more people," said Adoor Gopalakrishnan, regarding the ongoing controversy at the KR Narayanan National Institute of Visual Science and Arts, Kerala.

Speaking on the topic 'The Art of Film-making,' he said that he knew that there are people within and outside the institute who gains from the institute's fall. "Until Shankar Menon (former director of the institute) stepped in, there was complete anarchy. Menon brought in discipline," Gopalakrishnan added. When asked about the situation at the FTII, Pune, Gopalakrishnan said that he doesn't hear about FTII anymore. He spoke about the strike that was staged by the students after a television artist was made the chairperson. Gopalakrishnan said, "They have started many short-time courses there. These will kill the main course. There are many private institutions that can run these short-term courses."

DON'T DIVIDE PEOPLE FOR POLLS, FOCUS ON REAL ISSUES: PILOT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

CONGRESS leader and former union minister Sachin Pilot called for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections to focus on real issues such as employment, sanitation, economic growth and poverty alleviation, rather than communal and divisive issues, during the 'Hopes and Dreams: What New India Thinks' session at the TNIE ThinkEdu Conclave.

Pilot also expressed concern over the negative impacts of social media on political discourse and urged political parties to prioritise the nation and engage in honest and respectful discussions. He took a dig at the opposition BJP for rewriting history and not focusing on real issues. "We should not spend our political capital in rewriting history. Instead, I feel we should focus on the future of our country and discuss real issues like job situation, poverty and education," he said.

In conversation with Kaveree Bamzai at the session, Pilot said that in the LS elections, the real issues should be on delivery of government on issues like employment, sanitation, economic growth and poverty alleviation.

He urged the youth to educate themselves and research, read and talk to come up with the best alternative for them in the next LS elections. He said that while social media has brought in transparency, it has also brought negative consequences such as false propaganda and personal attacks on opponents, which are harmful to the democracy.

He advised political parties to be mindful of differing opinions and be respectful towards their opposition. "We should not say whatever we want. There should be some thread of honesty and principles in it," said Pilot.

'REALISTIC' TS BUDGET AVOIDS SOPS ROUTE EVEN IN ELECTION YEAR

Telangana Finance Minister T Harish Rao's last budget in the BRS government's second term is pragmatic for the most part, unrealistic to an extent, but by no stretch of the imagination an election statement—although the state will be going to polls later this year. The ₹2.9-lakh crore budget carries forward the government's welfare agenda just as in the previous fiscal but appears to have been crafted keeping in mind fiscal constraints. So, if Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao's brainchild Dalit Bandhu, under which the beneficiaries receive ₹10 lakh each, has received an allocation of ₹17,700 crore, the crop loan waiver has been allotted ₹6,385 crore. The obvious inference being the government's realisation that polls or no polls, it has no magic wand to write off thousands of crores.

If we look at the stats, priority has been given to agriculture and the various welfare schemes like the one mentioned above and Rythu Bandhu, among others. And, importantly, no new schemes have been announced. The government must be commended for not giving in to the temptation of an election year to throw fiscal prudence to the winds. But to carry on with the existing schemes itself is a challenge. Yes, the economy is picking up fast. The state's GDP grew by 7.4% and is expected to pick up further. The finance minister's revenue estimates sound reasonable, even if a wee bit optimistic.

He has calculated a ₹4,881.74 crore surplus on the expected revenues. The problem arises because of certain assumptions. For instance, grants-in-aid from the Centre are expected to be around ₹41,000 crore and over ₹17,000 crore from Andhra Pradesh in outstanding dues. These are unlikely to materialise as anticipated. Logically, as the fiscal year draws close, we may expect either the expenditure to be less or borrowings to be more. As per the revised estimates, the government hasn't spent as it had proposed last year. For instance, till December last year, capital expenditure was just around 42%. The same appears to be the case under quite a few heads.

In the final analysis, the budget is a statement of intent. The finance minister's intentions are evident: stay the course and focus on welfare. If he succeeds in the same while reaching the target of a 3.5% fiscal deficit, it would be a job done well.

IMPROVE TRAIN SAFETY TO SAVE PASSENGER LIVES

The horrific death of a small child, who fell off a train compartment onto the tracks near Holenarasipura in Karnataka, is just one of many accidents that occur along the vast Indian Railways network. Probably the restless five-year-old slipped through the open door or vestibule space near the toilet when the mother turned away for a moment. Sadly, Yojith was found only 24 hours later, when he had almost bled to death. None of the co-passengers thought it fit to stop a small child wandering unattended towards the door. It only highlights the lack of safety on our trains, with the design being one of the main culprits. From the high entry steps to doors left open when the train is speeding to the lack of stability in the washroom and the ladder to the upper berth, the utility function is pretty low, and so is the safety factor.

The open coach door is probably the most dangerous of all these elements. It encourages people to sit on the steps, dangle their legs in the form of selfies, and plain overcrowding. Our unreserved compartments are a spectacle, with passengers hanging out and riding atop the roof, literally journeying on a limb and a prayer. Passengers often slip between the train and platform while boarding and alighting, weighed down as they are with bags and generally in a hurry. Railway Board data tabled in Parliament show that from 2012 to 2021, 2,581 passengers died after getting trapped between the train and the platform—an average of more than 250 passengers a year—while 39,015 passengers died after falling from moving trains in the same period. There have also been instances of people being thrown out, most often women who resist molestation.

What ails this gargantuan public transport system which cannot ensure passenger safety? Is it unmanageable numbers or a lack of education and etiquette among the travelling public? The TTEs must prevent overcrowding and keep the doors locked, but that is easier said than done. Posting a few police personnel in unreserved compartments could enforce a sense of discipline among the public. While we can take heart from the fact that train services are improving, and so are the ergonomic elements, with the Vistadome and Vande Bharat trains lifting travel to a new level, it is apparent that they cater to the affluent classes. We need a design overhaul for the 'cattle class' compartments.

QUICK TAKE

NO MIXING MEDICAL COURSES

Haryana proposes including a year of Ayurveda study in the five-year MBBS programme in the state's medical colleges. It wants the National Medical Commission's nod for the revised curriculum. The move is illogical and counter-productive. Allopathy and Ayurveda are different medicine systems. Their co-existence does not mean their integration in a taught course. The MBBS degree teaches modern medicine for the entire duration. The BAMS degree does the same with Ayurveda. Their approaches to diagnosis and treatment are diverse. A truncated Ayurveda syllabus can only distract MBBS students while it can potentially erode the credibility of the distinctive Ayurveda degree.

India taking more than seven decades to host the leader of the most populous Arab country as the chief guest of the Republic Day celebrations signals the current state of the bilateral relations. However, this should not have been the case, especially given the bonhomie of the 1950s. As Egyptian writer Mohamed Hassanein Heikal once reminded, between February 1953 and July 1955 alone, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and President Gamal Abdel Nasser met as many as eight times. Due to logistical and political reasons, Cairo was Nehru's transit point for his visits to Europe and the Americas and this partly contributed to the frequency.

The June War of 1967, which ended with the Arab defeat, marked Egypt's decline in Middle Eastern politics and this was formalised following the oil crisis of 1973 that cemented the ascendancy of Saudi influence. The energy-driven approach to the region spurred by economic reforms of the 1990s further pushed Egypt out of India's priorities.

Thus, as it was coming to terms with the post-Cold War international order, India shifted its attention to Israel, with whom it normalised relations in January 1992. On the other hand, Egypt's dwindling regional influence, the emergence of new players like Türkiye and Qatar, the power aspirations of Iran, and its reach beyond its immediate neighbourhood meant that India gave lesser importance to Egypt. Moreover, the great power aspirations in the early 21st century pushed India to prioritise G20 over non-alignment. Thus, meeting Saudi leaders in G20 summits became common since Narendra Modi became PM in 2014.

There were attempts to resurrect the old flames of Indo-Egyptian relations. Previous presidents Hosni Mubarak (November 2008) and Mohammed Morsi (March 2013) did visit India and not to be left behind, Abdel Fattah El-Sisi also came twice in October 2015 and September 2016. But no Indian PM had visited Egypt since Manmohan Singh, who attended the Sharm el-Sheikh NAM summit in July 2009. Despite invites, PM Modi, who travelled to several Middle Eastern countries, has not visited Egypt. However, he met Sisi in multilateral forums such as the UN, BRICS and SCO.

As has been the pattern in recent decades, India's decision to host Sisi at this juncture has a China angle. China's footprints in Sisi's mega infrastructure projects are visible and growing. Between 2013 and 2019 alone, China invested $28.5 billion in Egypt, with more than half of them going to industrial projects. In sync with its Belt and Road Initiative, China is active in the second Suez Canal project and the new Central Business District being developed in Cairo. For Sisi, China offers an opportunity to lessen his dependence on the US, which is driven by human rights concerns under the Biden administration. Since assuming office in 2014, Sisi has visited China as many as seven times.

Despite losing its erstwhile preponderance, Egypt is still an important Arab country, wielding considerable influence in the 22-member Arab League

The economic situation in Egypt is also challenging. The conditions that catapulted the masses to rise against Mubarak as well as Morsi have not fundamentally changed. The situation continues to be precarious. More than a quarter of the 110 million population is below the poverty line.

There is double-digit inflation, and unemployment is close to 10%. The national debt is expected to touch $500 billion by 2027. In addition, the Russia-Ukraine War has accentuated the food security problems of Egypt. Nearly two-thirds of the population, or 60 million people, rely on food subsidies, and the growing import grain prices are widening Egypt's trade deficit.

The second Suez Canal, developed at over $8 billion, is not without its problems. Due to open in July this year, it faces an unexpected challenge: Israel. Plans are underway to build pipelines between the Israeli ports of Eilat on the Gulf of Aqaba and Ashkelon on the Mediterranean for exporting Gulf oil, especially from the UAE to Eu-

INSTITUTIONALISING THE GLOBAL SOUTH IN INDIA'S G-20 YEAR

N SATHIYA MOORTHY

Policy analyst and political commentator

This time around, vis-à-vis the Global South, India may have to live down at least a part of its Quad/Indo-Pacific identity linked to the US if they all are to take our honesty and sincerity of purpose seriously. In context, the nation's Covid outreach might only be a beginning, but in doing so, New Delhi kept regional and global politics out of the debate successfully. Sustaining such a temper will not be easy against rival pressures in a changed global scenario post-pandemic.

In the interim, it will not be easy for India to readjust itself to the new role it has voluntarily assigned to itself. There has to be clear, if not better, appreciation that the G-20 chair is a one-year wonder

"Most of the global challenges have not been created by the Global South. But they affect us more," PM Modi said at the Global South virtual summit. He mentioned the pandemic, climate change, terrorism and even the Ukraine conflict, all of them from only the recent past, in this context. India's goal in 2023 is to represent the Global South, he said. "Your voice is India's voice and your priorities are India's priorities. ... As India begins its G-20 Presidency this year, it is natural that our aim is to amplify the voice of the Global South," he asserted.

"In the last century, we supported each other in our fight against foreign rule. We can do it again in this century, to create a new world order that will ensure the welfare of our citizens," the PM said, indicating that under the changed circumstances, the Global South should unite and change the unequal "global political and financial governance" structures, and underlined a formula—Respond, Recognise, Respect and Reform—as a way to achieve the goals.

Ahead of the Global South summit, former Foreign Secretary and Chief Summit Coordinator Harsh Vardhan Shringla had pointedly referred to the Ukraine War entering the second year soon, and said that India would focus on "substance and not symbolism" of the outcomes. It says a lot about India's goals and processes for the purpose, but a lot will depend on the political messaging, the constancy and continuity accompanying it.

For this to happen, India should ensure that future G-20 chairs do not adopt stand-alone, silos agendas at the G-20 summit but ensure continuity, especially concerning the Global South. Before India, Indonesia, another member of the Global South, was the chair, but the Bali Summit last year was overshadowed by the Ukraine War. Thankfully, the next two summits will be hosted by Brazil and South Africa, two other members of the Global South.

India needs to think ahead and coordinate with them, given the commonality of the BRICS membership, to ensure continuity in thought, word and action—without giving the impression that together, Global South representatives in G-20 are seeking to hijack the agenda. The need of the hour is the institutionalisation and instrumentalisation of the Global South.

In the past, NAM served the purpose, but following economic reforms, India remained a mute spectator in that body. Maybe out of guilt and to avoid embarrassment, PM Modi has been keeping away from personally participating in NAM summits.

At least NAM is where the heart of the Global South still lies. As sovereigns, they have past memories of India—good, bad and indifferent. How India handles this reality going beyond the symbolism of its pronouncements and not confusing the same with its constant demands for UNSC reforms, including permanent membership, will make the Global South work. It will also help India's leadership ambitions and initiatives stick and stay on its own terms, not stopping with the Global South.

rope. When materialised, this would considerably undermine the Suez Canal tanker traffic. However, due to its geostrategic location and strategic positioning, Egypt is trying to capitalise on its multiple identities. Despite losing its erstwhile preponderance, Egypt is still an important Arab country, wielding considerable influence in the 22-member Arab League. With over 80% of its population following Islam, Egypt adheres to moderation. Pushing the country towards religious extremism was one reason that led to President Morsi's downfall. Since the 1950s, its leaders have viewed Muslim Brotherhood as a threat to Egyptian identity and social fabric, and in December 2013, the Brotherhood, the mother of several religious groups in the Middle East and beyond, was proscribed as a terrorist organisation.

The Constitution, adopted through a popular referendum in January 2014, is one of the most inclusive in the world. Despite declaring Islam as the state religion, it recognises and hails the historical legacy of Moses, Jesus Christ and Prophet Mohammed in making Egypt "the cradle of religions". In the socio-political realm, Egypt uses its identity as an African and Francophone country in its diplomatic outreach and is a major player in both groups.

Above all, Egypt is a pivot in several mediating efforts in the Middle East, especially in the Arab-Israeli conflict. The peace treaty with Israel and its diplomatic engagements enabled Egypt to lower periodic tensions and conflict. For example, even the financial clout of Qatar could not match Cairo's diplomatic acumen in ending the 50-day Gaza conflict in 2014. The Abraham Accords offered an additional avenue for Egypt to leverage its advantages. Convergence of interests with the US on several regional issues and geographic proximity enabled Sisi to host several meetings between Israel and Arab countries. Even on I2U2, where India is a key member, Sisi is an indirect player by actively courting Israel and the UAE.

Thus, Egypt's multiple identities—Arab, Islamic, African, Francophone, peace mediator and inclusive country—could be shored up to expand India's footprints in the Middle East. The joint statement issued during Sisi's visit speaks of "upgrading the bilateral relations" to the level of "Strategic Partnership" covering political, security, defence, energy and economic areas". However, walking the talk will be easier said than done, especially in light of both countries' prolonged neglect and indifference.

Politics over 'deletion' heats up Parliament

Mallikarjun Kharge says freedom of speech cannot be subverted and similar words used by Vajpayee still on record

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

TAKING exception to the removal of six comments he made in the speech on the motion of Thanks on President's address, Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge on Thursday wrote to Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar saying that he hasn't made any personal charges and any rule of the House cannot subvert the constitutional guarantee of the freedom of speech.

Demanding a JPC probe on the Hindenburg report on Adani Group, Kharge had attacked the Modi government on Wednesday, questioning its silence on the issue.

On Thursday, the Upper House witnessed noisy scenes as Congress MPs objected to the deletion of Kharge's remarks, pointing out that similar remarks made by former prime ministers Vajpayee and Manmohan Singh in the House continue to be part of the proceedings. Kharge said that he did not use any unparliamentary word or language or made any allegation on anyone.

"Yet you picked out some words. I won't say you misinterpreted them but if you had any doubt, you could have asked for clarification. But you deleted my words in six places" he told the House. "Former PM Vajpayee used a word against former PMP V Narasimha Rao and that word is still in the records," said Kharge.

In his letter to Dhankhar, Kharge pointed out that directions were made by the Chair on February 8 to authenticate six observations made by him during the speech.

"The institution of Parliament of India is a platform to fix the accountability of the Executive. This necessitates that the policies and the decisions of the government are discussed, dissected and debated on the floor of the House. Any criticism of policies and decisions of the government and their fallouts cannot be construed as the allegation against any individual Member of the House," he said.

Kharge further stated in his letter that Article 105 (1) of the Constitution of India guarantees freedom of speech for the Members of Parliament.

"In consonance with this constitutional guarantee and rules of the House, a member is only required to authenticate any document that he lays on the table of the House. There is no convention or provision of authentication of points made in a speech on the floor of the House," he said.

Restore Rahul's speech: Adhir writes to Speaker

Congress leader in the Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury on Thursday wrote to Speaker Om Birla urging him to revisit his decision to delete parts of Rahul Gandhi's speech made during the Motion of Thanks to the President's Address. The leader asked the Speaker to restore Rahul's speech. "The freedom of speech that is available to MPs under Article 105(1) is wider in amplitude than the Right of Freedom of speech and expression guaranteed under Article 19(1)(a)," he wrote.

On Wednesday, the Speaker of the Lok Sabha had removed 18 comments made by Rahul Gandhi during his speech on the motion of Thanks on President's address. He had raised questions on Adani Group's links with the government.

Kharge, in the letter said that it would be an inversion of the system of governance, if the opposition members are expected to gather evidence and then raise the matter on the floor of the House. "The arrangement, as I understand, is that the opposition member, or any private member, raises issues on the basis of inputs from media, reports in public domain, or even confidential personal information," he said.

"The member, after due diligence, draws the attention of the House to such issues and it is incumbent upon the government to investigate the matter and take appropriate action in consonance with the law of the land," Kharge said.

OPPN FLAGS CUT IN MINORITIES' BUDGET

Raising concerns over the reduction of Budget allocation for minorities, NREGA, food and other schemes for the poor, the Opposition attacked the government during the discussion on the Union Budget in the Parliament on Thursday. RSP MP N K Premachandran said that though the budget spoke about inclusive growth, minorities have been missing from the Finance Minister's speech and also in the President's speech. "Deliberate act of discrimination against the minorities is reflected in the budget" the MP said.

16L RENOUNCED CITIZENSHIP SINCE 2011

More than 16 lakh Indians renounced citizenship since 2011 including 2,25,620 last year, according to data provided by Ministry of External Affairs in Rajya Sabha on Thursday. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar presented the details while replying to a question. He said the number of Indians who renounced their Indian citizenship in 2015 was 1,31,489. In 2018, the number was 1,34,561, while 1,44,017 Indians renounced their citizenship in 2019, 85,256 in 2020 and 1,63,370 in 2021.

MEDIA COUNCIL NOT DESIRABLE: GOVT

The government has told a parliamentary panel that it "may not be desirable" to set up a unified media council as each media platform was unique and distinctive in its own way with a self-regulatory mechanism, prompting the panel to make a fresh push for such a framework with statutory powers to enforce advisories. The parliamentary Standing Committee on Communications and IT, chaired by Shiv Sena's Pratap Jadhav, had suggested a media council.

"These occurrences, based on their severity are investigated either by the concerned airlines under the supervision of the DGCA," he said in a written reply.

WITH no clarity on population census 2021, the Communist Party of India-Marxist (CPIM) has criticised the Government for keeping the decision to conduct official population count in abeyance for an indefinite period since 2019.

The CPIM general secretary Sitaram Yechury on Friday said that it is criminal to further postpone Census 2021.

"Census data is vital for policy formulations & for focusing on programmes for marginalised people & economically backward regions. Since it started in 1881 it continued uninterrupted even during the two World Wars!" he tweeted.

The CPIM leader's tweet was in reaction to the statement of the union home ministry in Lok Sabha, where the Minister of State of Home Affairs Nityanand Rai had said that the conduct of Census 2021, updating of National Population Register and the related field activities was postponed due to outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic 'until further orders'.

"We have not forgotten how ruthlessly (PM Modi) and (Home Minister Amit) Shah campaigned in large rallies in W Bengal during the pandemic when due to their callous Covid and vaccine policies, so many of us lost loved ones. Now, no Census due to Covid? "Until further orders"? Shameful," his second tweet read.

Congress MP Abdul Khaleque from Barpeta has sought to know norms to conduct population census every 10 years and progress made pertaining to preparation for National Population Register.

In his response, Rai stated that the first synchronous Census was conducted in 1881 thereafter it has taken place every ten years and the last census was conducted in 2011.

"The intent of the Government for conducting Census 2021 was notified in the Gazette of India on 28th March, 2019. Subsequently, a notification under Citizenship Rules was published in the Gazette of India on 31st July 2019 to prepare and update the Population Register along with the first phase of Census i.e. Houselisting and Housing Census. However, due to the outbreak of Covid pandemic, the conduct of Census 2021, updating of National Population Register and the related field activities have been postponed until further orders," the minister said.

Most cancers in children curable if detected early, says oncologist

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

OVER 80,000 cancer cases are reported annually among kids in India, but most of them, if detected early, are curable.

Speaking with this newspaper, Dr Manas Kalra, a paediatric oncologist at the Sir Ganga Ram Hospital, said that in India, paediatric cancers are under-reported. "Many children are not diagnosed or are taken to tertiary care centres for cancer treatment. The main reason for this is lack of education, poor services at the periphery level, lack of awareness and poverty," he said.

India needs to prioritise childhood cancer at the regional and national level and meet the targets set by WHO Global Initiative for Childhood Cancer, he said, adding that the aim is to achieve at least a 60 per cent survival and reduction of suffering for all children with cancer by 2030. "If we are in sync with this target and put our best efforts, then the lives of one million children with cancer can be saved in the next decade," he said.

Dr Kalra said still primary healthcare physicians are not aware of when to suspect cancer in a child, which delays the diagnosis. "We need to raise awareness, educate health care workers and create referral pathways that aid in early detection and quick management of children."

Dr Manas Kalra, paediatric oncologist, Sir Ganga Ram Hospital

The latest therapies, like targeted and immunotherapies, have minimal side effects and are the future of cancer treatment. Blood cancer, the most typical cancer among children, is curable in 80 per cent, and so is Wilms' tumour, the most common type of kidney cancer in children.

Hodgkin's lymphoma - cancer that affects the lymphatic system, a part of the body's germ-fighting immune system - is curable in 85 per cent of patients. "India also needs to focus on cancer research so that cost-effective methods and indigenous technologies are developed to increase survival rate, which is still less as compared to the western world."

As children cannot express their problems, parents should become alert if their child is showing symptoms like persistent fever for more than a week, painless swelling in the body, if they are getting progressively pale, or developed bruises. Also, if one feels a lump in the abdomen, one should contact a doctor immediately.

The other symptoms, he said, of childhood cancer are the new onset of squint or even a white reflex in the eye. Children with brain tumours may vomit persistently, have headaches or are highly irritable. They may lose weight, be excessively sleepy or develop deviation of the mouth or eyes to one side. The pediatric oncologist said on International Childhood Cancer Day, observed on February 15, everyone should pledge to donate blood, support their neighbours and friends who are suffering from cancer and help out NGOs that work for children with cancer.

According to the National Centre for Disease Informatics and Research under the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR-NCDIR), Bengaluru, in collaboration with the World Health Organisation (WHO)-India, childhood cancers in the 0-14-year age group accounted for 4 per cent of all cancers recorded between 2012-2019 in the country.

SC to hear pleas seeking probe into Adani firms

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court will hear on Friday pleas seeking a probe into the Hindenburg Research report on Adani firms.

The pleas have been filed by serial litigant ML Sharma and Advocate Vishal Tiwari.

"A similar petition is also coming up tomorrow (Friday). This pertains to the Hindenburg report which has tarnished the image of the country. This may also be heard tomorrow with the other matter," Tiwari told a bench headed by CJJDY Chandrachud. "All right. Tag it," the CJ said.

Sharma has sought prosecution of short seller Nathan Anderson of US-based firm Hindenburg Research and his associates in India and the US for allegedly exploiting innocent investors and the "artificial crashing" of Adani Group's stock value in the market.

Tiwari in his plea has sought the constitution of a court-monitored committee for investigating the Hindenburg research report.

Tiwari has also sought the formation of another special committee to oversee the sanction policy for large loans amounting to more than ₹500 crore which are given to big corporate. He has argued that the report is in the interest of the nation's international image and dignity.

"For the protection of public money and investment, a high-power inquiry is needed so that creditors and investors do not come under any apprehension of a financial loss," Tiwari's

'End issues concerning Football Federation'

The SC on Thursday said it must bring the curtain down on issues plaguing the All India Football Federation (AIFF), including the objections raised to certain aspects of its draft constitution. "We must now bring the finality...I mean the curtain down on the issue related to the federation," a bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud said. The bench asked senior advocate Gopal Sankaranarayanan, assisting it as an amicus curiae (friend of the court), to find out key objections to the draft constitution of AIFF.

Consider Nirav Modi's kin plea, HC told

Supreme Court directs the Bombay High Court to consider afresh the plea of Nirav Modi's brother-in-law Mainak Mehta to travel back to his home in Hong Kong. The CJ-led bench took note of the fact that he was willing to give authorisation to CBI for disclosure of his account statements.

The Adani Group stocks have taken a beating on the bourses after Hindenburg Research made a series of allegations, including fraudulent transactions and share-price manipulation, against the business conglomerate.

The Adani Group has dismissed the charges as lies, saying it complies with all laws and disclosure requirements.

In his plea, Tiwari has said the petition depicts the "drastic condition and fate of people" when there is a situation of sharp fall in the securities market due to various reasons.

"Lots of people, who had their whole lifetime saving in such stocks, get a maximum setback due to fall in such shares with a huge amount of money going into the drain," the PIL submitted.

"In the aftermath of an unprecedented attack on billionaire Gautam Adani's vast empire by Hindenburg, the market value of all 10 Adani stocks have halved with investors sitting with a colossal loss," the plea by Tiwari submitted.

SKIN-LIKE TECH TO MONITOR HEALTH

A stretchable and breathable material that can be worn on the skin and remain undetectable, can enable long-term health monitoring, including onsets of cancers, diabetes and cardiac issues. Developed by researchers at University of Missouri, the skin-like material - an ultrasoft wearable bioelectronic device can simultaneously track multiple vital signs while keeping a check on blood pressure, heart's electric activities and hydration levels in the skin. That it is breathable and stretchable means it can be worn on-skin for long hours to allow it to monitor health parameters while the wearer goes about the daily routine.

EASY-TO-USE BIOSENSOR TECH TO DETECT FLUORIDE IN WATER

Researchers have developed an easy-to-use test to accurately detect toxic levels of fluoride in water | NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

THE problem of high fluoride content in underground water in India can now be detected easily and quickly at low costs. This solution comes from a biosensor developed at Northwestern University, Illinois, USA. Its researchers have developed a system to accurately detect toxic levels of fluoride in water through an easy-to-use test. It has been field-tested in rural Kenya with supporting evidence to show that even lay people can use the test and interpret the results with precision. The researchers have repurposed a 2020 technique and developed a biosensor technology platform called ROSALIND (RNA Output Sensors Activated by Ligand Induction). A ligand is any molecule or atom irreversibly binding to receiving protein molecules, also known as receptors. The amount of binding determines the levels of fluoride in this case. The ROSALIND's upgrade improved the device's use and made it quicker to allow easy transport to remote locations.

SOLAR RADIATION: COOLING EARTH WITH A SHADE OF LUNAR DUST?

Research team from the University of Utah is exploring a unique and ambitious feat to reduce the effects of global warming. They are studying the effects of shading the Earth with lunar dust to reduce solar radiation reaching the planet to achieve marginal cooling. It is meant to intercept a bit of sunlight before it reaches Earth. They expect to reduce the radiation by up to 2%, to mitigate the effects of global warming. They explore the benefits of shading the Earth with lunar dust by forming a layer at the L1 Lagrange Point, which is the closest point between the sun and Earth where the gravitational forces of the two are balanced. The researchers, using simulation, are studying which orbits can hold lunar dust in position to provide shading to the sun-facing part of Earth to achieve the effect. A variety of simulated scenarios tested various trajectories towards L1 to get the best 'sun shield'. There are challenges - major ones. How to get the dust into the trajectory and keep replenishing the previous 'sun shield' with a newer one every few days. But the researchers say their study only explores the potential impact of this strategy rather than look into the feasibility of it.

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

AIMED to spread the state government's development mantra among masses and have dialogue with government schemes beneficiaries, the Vikas Yatra led by the Shivraj Singh Chouhan government is once again in the news for bizarre reasons. In the latest incident, miscreants put itching powder on the minister of state for public health engineering Brajendra Singh Yadav, during the Vikas Yatra-related public connect program in his native Ashok Nagar district, forcing him to remove the Kurta and wash the upper portion of his body in public.

The incident happened in Devrachhi village in the minister's assembly constituency Mungaoli of Ashok Nagar district on Tuesday, while the minister was meeting people as part of the ongoing yatra.

The itching was so acute that the minister was compelled to remove his Kurta and wash his body with bottled water, whose videos have gone viral over the social media. In one of the viral videos, the minister was seen talking to those accompanying him that someone has put Karech (powder or seeds of the itching plant) on him.

Apart from the recent humiliation that the minister of state was put through, there have been other incidences of similar viral videos, too. A couple of days ago, the Vikas Rath (vehicle) had got stuck in a bad road, the video of which got viral. On the same day, a BJP MLA had to face the angst of villagers in another village of Khandwa district during the yatra.

Displaced Brus to cast vote in permanent home Tripura

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THE nowhere people have finally got home – and votes – in election-bound Tripura. Uttom Kumar Reang, 32, can safely call himself a former refugee now. He will vote on February 16, certain about his new home, Tripura. The displaced Brus were torn between Tripura and Mizoram. In 1997, when Uttom was just six years old, some 45,000 Brus, including his parents, had fled to Tripura from Mamit, Kolasib and Lunglei districts in the wake of ethnic riots. The refugees were lodged in six relief camps and they kept living there.

After a struggle spanning 26 years, Uttom and his tribespeople have finally found a closure. The government provided land along with Rs 1.5 lakh per family to build houses in what have now become permanent settlements. Uttom and his family now live in a house on the 1,200 sq-ft plot the government provided at a forested area near Haduklau in the Dhalai district.

Some 30,000 people like him have benefited from the resettlement reached in a quadripartite settlement among Bru/Reang representatives, Mizoram, Tripura and Central govern-

More importantly, they were officially pronounced as voters of Tripura. They have been resettled at 11 places – three in Dhalai, six in North Tripura and two in Gomati districts.

"Finally, I will vote in Tripura. Earlier we used to travel from the six refugee camps in Tripura and vote in Mizoram but were never certain about our future," said Uttom affording himself a secure smile. "We still have not got agricultural land, but that we will see," added Uttom who completed his graduation aided by the Vanvasi Kalyan Ashram. These resettled people were to receive monthly livelihood cash doles of ₹5,000 per family for two years since resettlement. For 10 months now, they have not received the money.

It is quite a dilemma who they will vote for this time. On the one hand, the BJP-led government has given them the house and the right to vote. However, they cannot forget the support they received from Tripura's royal scion Pradyot Bikram Manikya Debbarma who heads the TIPRA Motha.

"We are grateful to both. It is very difficult to choose between them," said another settler requesting not to be named. Bruno Mssa, who was among Bru leaders who negotiated with the government prior to the signing of the resettlement agreement, expressed concern that 10,000 people are still living in relief camps. "These families get ₹5 besides 600 grams of rice and 60 grams of salt per head per day from the government," he said.

Ramgarh by-poll litmus test for ruling alliance

Ramgarh by-polls will prove to be the litmus test for the ruling alliance which has brought long awaited bills in the Assembly during the last few months; especially 1932 khatian based Local Policy Bill-2022, which was scrapped by the Jharkhand High Court. Moreover, this time besides the political issues, the unfulfilled promise for offering five lakh jobs to the unemployed and embarrassment to the government over the un-constitutional job policy, will also haunt the ruling. Ramgarh has been a traditional seat of AJSU, but it went to Congress in 2019 Assembly polls because BJP and AJSU had contested separately.

Bandh against Agricultural Bill

Giving eight day ultimatum to Hemant Soren Government, traders' apex body, Jharkhand Chamber of Commerce and Industries (JCCCI), has decided that the trade of food grains would be closed from February 15 against the Agricultural Marketing Fee Bill, passed in Jharkhand Assembly. All kinds of small and big shops will also be kept closed from February 15, if the bill is not withdrawn in these eight days. Before this, the work and protest program will be continued by wearing black badges. According to traders, the bill will decrease demand for farmer's produce and they will get a lower price.

Fear grows for Earthquake survivors' lives amid cold

ANKARA

HOPES were fading on Thursday for rescuing survivors of the earthquake in Turkey and Syria, which has killed nearly 20,000 people in one of the deadliest tremors in decades.

Bitter cold has hampered the four-day search of thousands of flattened buildings and the 72-hour mark that experts consider the most likely period to save lives has passed. Thousands who lost their homes in a catastrophic earthquake huddled around campfires and clamoured for food and water in the bitter cold. Temperatures have fallen to -5°C in some of the quake-hit areas. While stories of miraculous rescues briefly buoyed spirits, the grim reality of the hardship facing tens of thousands who survived the disaster cast a pall.

In the Turkish city of Antakya, dozens of people scrambled for aid in front of a truck distributing children's coats and other supplies.

Ahmet Tokgoz, a survivor, called for the government to evacuate people from the devastated region.

While many of the tens of thousands who have lost their homes have found shelter in tents, stadiums and other temporary accommodation, others have spent the nights outdoors since Monday's 7.8 magnitude quake. "Especially in this cold, it is not possible to live here," he said. "People are warming up around campfires, but campfires can only warm you up so much. Those who couldn't find shelters have no option but sleep outdoors. If people haven't died from being stuck under the rubble, they'll die from the cold," Tokgoz said.

Rescuers continued their race to pull more people alive from the rubble, with the window closing to find trapped survivors. Experts said the survival window for those trapped under the rubble or otherwise unable to obtain basic necessities was closing rapidly.

Some in Turkey have complained the response was too slow. Any perception that President Recep Tayyip Erdogan's government has mismanaged the crisis could hurt him at a time when he faces a tough battle for re-election in May.

LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION OF INDIA (LIC), country's largest insurer, on Thursday announced 27 times rise in its net profit to ₹6,334.19 crore for the quarter ending December 2022 compared to ₹235 crore a year ago, driven by strong growth in premium income and transfer of ₹5,670 crore of surplus from non-participatory funds to shareholders' account.

Net premium income of the state-backed insurer increased 14.5% to ₹1.12 lakh crore from ₹97,620 crore in the same quarter of the previous year while its revenue rose 13% to ₹1.96 lakh crore at the end of December last year.

Grover's data theft allegation malicious and baseless, says BharatPe

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE tussle between Ashneer Grover and fintech firm BharatPe continues as Grover reportedly wrote to the National Payments Council of India (NPCI) about data theft.

Grover accused BharatPe co-founder Bhavik Koladiya (who quit the company in July 2022) saying that he took data from the company to his new venture. BharatPe told this newspaper that this allegation is malicious and completely baseless. After quitting BharatPe, Koladiya took charge as the CEO of OTPLess, a SaaS start-up.

"BharatPe fiercely protects the data of its customers and observes high security standards. OTPless is our service provider that only enables verification via WhatsApp and is used by less than 10% of our merchant base. We are fully compliant on all our data privacy obligations with our customers and partners," BharatPe said in a statement. Strongly denying the allegation, Bhavik Koladiya told this newspaper, "The allegations are nothing but an act of retaliation and frustration on his part, resulting from his removal from BharatPe and my ongoing legal suit against him in Delhi High Court." He added that there is no cause for concern as the claims made by Grover are completely without merit. Last month, Koladiya sued BharatPe's former MD Grover in the Delhi High Court to reclaim his shares in the company. BharatPe was founded in 2017 by Koladiya and Shashvat Nakrani. Later, Grover joined BharatPe in 2018.

Recently, BharatPe filed a civil suit and a criminal complaint against Grover, his wife Madhuri Jain, and other family members for misappropriation of company funds. BharatPe has sought over ₹88 crore in damages from them. The company also filed a criminal complaint with the Economic Offences Wing (EOW) on 17 counts, including cheating, siphoning, criminal breach of trust and embezzlement of funds, against Ashneer Grover and family.

In December last year, the company filed arbitration under the Singapore International Arbitration Centre (SIAC) to clawback Grover's restricted shareholding and the founder title. Grover holds about 8.5% stake in the fintech unicorn and of which, 1.4% was not vested and released on the date of his resignation.

Discrepancies in loan apps; govt gives 48 hrs to prove genuineness

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DAYS after banning 94 loan apps, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MEITY) on Thursday said there are discrepancies in these apps thus the government had to take this decision.

However, the ministry has given these apps 48 hours time to prove their genuineness. "There is a standard procedure... they were given opportunity to present their details, in case they have anything... on this basis the decision (to ban apps) was taken," said a MEITY official.

In a fresh crackdown last week, the ministry initiated a process to block about 138 betting and 94 loan apps with Chinese and India links. Apps like Fintech firms LazyPay, IndiaBulls Home Loans, Kissht have India link. Subsequently, the government said if they find their paper genuine, these apps will be removed from the list. "Depending on what documents they submit... if they are genuine then the decision will be overturned," said the official. Later, loan apps have come under the scanner of the government and law enforcement agencies. The government, in Parliament, said the RBI issued advisories to state governments to check unauthorised digital lending platforms and mobile apps through their law enforcement agencies. This move comes after the rise of loan app scams in India.

Govt blocked 138 betting and 94 loan apps

Their modus operandi is the deduction of processing fees from loan, combined with penalties, and at significantly higher interest rates in cases of delay in payments. At many instances, they send them lewd messages, threatening to release their morphed photos and shaming them with messages to their contacts. The government said these apps, often displaying predatory behaviour to trap individuals in massive debt, can be misused as tools for espionage and propaganda, besides posing a security risk to the data of the Indian citizens.

Equity MF inflows rise 72% to 4-month high in Jan

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

EQUITY mutual fund inflows rose 72% to touch a four-month high of ₹12,546 crore in January, helped by record systematic investment plans (SIPs) inflows, as per the latest figures released by the Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) on Thursday. Equity mutual funds had seen ₹7,303 crore inflows in December 2022.

SIP inflows reached a new high of ₹13,856.18 crore in January compared to ₹13,573.08 crore in December. This was the fourth consecutive month when SIP flows remain remained above ₹13,000 crore mark. The number of SIP accounts reached 6.21 crore, compared to 6.12 crore in December. Total 22.65 lakh new SIPs were registered in January.

Equity schemes have seen inflows in all the categories and smallcap schemes emerged as the most preferred category with a net inflow to the tune of ₹2,255 crore, followed by midcap (₹1,962 crore), and large & midcap (₹1,902 crore).

Mutual fund folios crossed all-time high at 14.28 crore at the end of January.

"Smallcaps have witnessed inflows, majorly driven by the retail investors as their investment is for long-term return cycle. Encouraging SIP numbers indicates retail investors' trust in mutual funds. We believe that SIP inflow momentum has and will continue to balance the FII outflows in the market," said N S Venkatesh, chief executive, AMFI.

"The importance of investing in equity markets for the long term goals through SIP as a goal-linked route to create wealth is gaining awareness. This month almost 23 lakh new SIPs were registered, which shows increasing investor belief in the instrument. SIPs are the simplest route to build a disciplined habit of regular investing," he added.

GOVT TO CLAMP DOWN ON E-PHARMACIES

THE government will take strict action against companies which will sell online drugs without license, a top official told The New Indian Express.

Nearly two dozens of companies have received show cause notice from the Ministry of Health.

Companies including Practo, Tata1mg, Amazon, Flipkart, Zeelabs, Netmeds, Apollo, ParmEasy and Healthcare have to submit their response to the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO) within two days.

"We have asked more than 20 companies to show cause within two days from the issue of our notice, why action shall not be taken against them for online sale of such drugs. In case we don't receive any reply, we will take strict action against these companies without any further notice," the official cited above who didn't want to be quoted.

"The government has received various representations raising concerns regarding sale of drugs via online platforms in contravention to the drugs and cosmetics act, 1940 & rules there under. Some drugs are also being sold online which are only allowed for sale by retail under a valid prescription of a registered medical practitioner and supplied under the supervision of a pharmacist," the official added.

The CDSCO has also forwarded the Delhi High Court order of 2018 giving injunction on online sale of drugs to all the States/UTs drugs controllers. There are cases in various courts in this regard requesting to prohibit the online sale of drugs, the official said.

He further stated that the sale or exhibit or offer for sale or distribution of drugs through online, internet or other electronic platforms including various mobile applications without a license have potential impact on quality of drugs and pose risk to the public health due to potential misuse of drugs through self-medication, indiscriminate use of the drugs etc.

Several firms get show cause notice

Nearly two dozen firms have received show cause notice from health ministry. Firms including Practo, Tata1mg, Amazon, Flipkart, Zeelabs, among others, have to submit their response to CDSCO within two days

Hinduja Group bats for 2nd round of auction in RCap case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HINDUJA GROUP'S IIHL, in its appeal before the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT), has said it is battling for higher valuation for the stakeholders of Reliance Capital. The tribunal will hear the appeal on Friday along with the appeal filed by the Committee of Creditors (COC).

IIHL said NCLAT has committed a grave error of jurisdiction in interfering with the commercial decision of the committee of creditors of Reliance Capital to conduct a second round of auction. NCLAT, on Tuesday, had issued notices to Torrent Investments and other respondents on a petition filed by the lender of Reliance Capital seeking a second round of financial bids for the debt-ridden firm, currently going through insolvency resolution process. In its appeal, IIHL said the adjudicating authority has glossed over the fact that Torrent is not a successful resolution applicant as the evaluation is at an intermediate stage where the COC is undertaking a price discovery exercise for maximisation of asset value. The adjudicating authority failed to envisage that Torrent, as one of prospective resolution applicants, is merely a participant in the insolvency resolution process and would not have any locus to stall the resolution process.

THE TOP CONTENDERS

Australia, enough said. They will face some stern competition from the other two in the big three - India and England. All three are top sides and have the ability to take out the opponents with their batting firepower on a given day. But it is also hard to rule out New Zealand with the kind of experience they have. Suzie Bates and Sophie Devine had one hand on the trophy, not once but twice a decade ago when the T20 game was so different. They are stalwarts of the sport and have some unfinished business.

THE DARK HORSES

Hosts South Africa. There is going to be a lot of pressure on them to deliver in front of a home crowd. That they have not picked a multi-dimensional player and captain like Dane van Niekerk because she could not run 2km in less than 9.5 minutes only adds to it. But this team is filled with potential. They almost chased down 247 against England in one of the warm-ups. And what more, some of their stars - Shabnim Ismail and Marizanne Kapp - have waited a long time to play a home WC. Could this be their moment of glory?

THE ONES TO PUNCH ABOVE WEIGHT

When West Indies won the WC in 2016, it was poetic. Hayley Matthews, the then teen-superstar, is now the skipper. They will rely on her and Stafanie Taylor to do the heavy lifting with others batting around them. Then, there are Ireland and Bangladesh. The former beat Australia in warm-ups and the latter have included some exciting U19 talents who set the WC ablaze last month. Don't be surprised if they cause an upset or two.

TIME TO TURN IT UP

TEN TEAMS, 17 DAYS AND ONE GLORY. AS THE 2023 WOMEN'S T20 WORLD CUP GETS UNDERWAY ON SATURDAY WITH THE CLASH BETWEEN HOSTS SOUTH AFRICA AND SRI LANKA AT CAPE TOWN, A LOOK...

THE CONDITIONS: It is hard to remember the last time there was so much cricket in a South African summer. The domestic tournaments, the international series for men and women, the SA20 league, an U19, and a senior World Cup all in a span of a few months. It will be interesting to see what impact it has on the conditions for the WC. The recent women's tri-series saw slow, turning tracks, and the WC - which will be played in three venues - too could see a few over the next three weeks.

WHY IS THIS WC IMPORTANT?

Australia set standards high in 2020. To surpass the 86,174 fans cheering on at MCG could be difficult but in the larger scheme of things, this WC means more. There has never been more buzz around women's cricket. The U19 WC and WPL have set the tone and now all eyes will be on what happens at the senior event. It will be interesting to see how the crowd attendance goes, but safe to say, there are going to be some high-octane contests.

RETURNING JADEJA RATTLES TOURISTS

Coming back to international fold after a five-month layoff, southpaw takes a fiver to bowl out Australia for 177

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

DID Australia get it wrong? Obviously not. It will be too early to draw a conclusion with the four-match Test series just a day old.

To begin with, all talk surrounding the VCA Stadium pitch in Jamtha, Nagpur gave way to hope as the day started on a positive note for the Aussies. Their skipper, Pat Cummins, maintained his good form of winning a majority of tosses. As he said on the eve of the match, he had no hesitation in batting first on a surface where batting in the fourth innings is expected to be extremely difficult.

But the battle was only half won. They still had to negotiate Indian bowlers, especially the spinners, and put runs on the scoreboard to exert more pressure on their opponents.

Agreed, their side is packed with left-handers (total five, four in top eight) and the strip was apparently designed to trouble them. But they dropped Travis Head, who had scored a century and four half-centuries in his previous five Tests. It invited a lot of criticism as well, with former Australian players including Matthew Hayden and Steve Waugh questioning the team management over the move to axe Head, the No 4 Test batter in the world.

Above all, the visitors seemed to have prepared well ahead of the series as they flew in an R Ashwin impersonator to the nets during their short camp in Alur, Bengaluru ahead of the series.

The homework even paid off as Ashwin went wicketless in his first 10 overs. But amid all the noise around the 36-year-old off-break bowler, they apparently forgot to devise plans for their tormentor on Indian pitches; Ravindra Jadeja. It cost them as the Saurashtra left-armed claimed his 11th five-for of his career to dismantle Aussies.

No doubt, Ashwin has been India's bowling mainstay but it's Jadeja who has been a thorn in the flesh for the Australian side for years. They seem to be his most favoured opponents, at least on Indian decks. Among the eight countries he has played Tests against, he has claimed most wickets against Aussies. To be precise, 68 till Thursday from 12-and-a-half matches. The five-for on Day 1 in Nagpur was his fourth against them. His strike rate of 48.9 against them is also his best among nations against whom he has played more than a Test. More importantly, he has picked wickets in heaps in two previous series Australia played in India (24 in 2013 and 25 in 2017). Ashwin, though, had topped him with 29 in 2013 but it came down to 21 the next series four years later.

With Jadeja showing no signs of rustiness despite staying away from the

WHAT HE SAID

On Ranji game vs TN

Big help, as you are playing against a top first-class team with quality batters in its ranks. I was to play the Test match after that game and that preparation really helped me. Also the track for that match. I wouldn't say this is exactly like the Chennai track but quite similar to it in terms of low bounce. TN game gave me confidence that I can play Test cricket.

On pitch

This isn't a rank turner. Compared to other wickets it was slow and had low bounce. I felt defending wasn't very difficult today but as the game progresses, defending will become increasingly difficult but that's the nature of Test cricket, so it's not a rank turner.

Rehab after surgery

It was difficult as I have missed a lot of cricket in the last five months, missed important tournaments (Asia Cup and World T20). Rehabs are tough for players and even tougher is to keep the level of performance post rehab. You need that confidence too that whether post injury your performance will remain the same or not.

game for five months due to knee surgery, the visitors flittered away the toss advantage. It was him who broke the dangerous looking third-wicket partnership of 82 runs between Marnus Labuschagne (49) and Steven Smith (37) to give India a wicket soon after the lunch. He had Labuschagne stumped before disturbing Smith's stumps.

"Once you start bowling in good areas every delivery; they would also start trying different things and they were busy batters and once they had a partnership, I thought, I should bowl as many dot balls as possible, consistently. Pitch wasn't offering turn so, had to bowl in good areas and maintain good line and length," Jadeja told reporters on the twin success.

"I used the crease as not every delivery was turning and as I said the bounce was low, so trying to create doubts in minds of the batters. I was going wide off the crease and coming close to the stumps and some deliveries if they stepped out and it turned, there would always be a chance, luckily he (Labuschagne) stepped out to one that one turned after pitching. And for Smith, the ball went straight from that same wide of the crease," he added.

In the end, Australia were bowled out for a below-par total of 177 in 63.5 overs with 34-year-old Jadeja returning with impressive figures of 5/47 in his 22 overs. Ashwin was behind him with 3/42 in his spell of 15.5 overs.

The duo might have walked away with a major chunk of wickets but it was pacers Mohammed Siraj and Mohammed Shami, who gave the hosts a dream start as they claimed a wicket each to send Australian openers back with only two runs on the board.

In reply, India, who dropped Shubman Gill to accommodate KL Rahul and handed Test debuts to Suryakumar Yadav and KS Bharat, were comfortably placed at 77/1 after 24 overs.

Childhood coach & family watch Bharat from stands

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

EVEN as his wards thrashed hosts Goa by an innings and 40 runs at the Goa Cricket Association Academy, Porvorim on Wednesday in the ongoing Col CK Nayudu U-25 Tournament, coach J Krishna Rao was lost in his thoughts. Even as the players were celebrating their triumph, Rao was busy on his phone searching for a flight for Nagpur.

It was going to be a huge moment for him and he didn't want to miss it. Eventually he didn't. He not only reached the Orange City in time but also watched his ward Kona Srikanth Bharat being handed the Test cap from the North Stand at the VCA Stadium in Jamtha on Day 1 of the first match between India and Australia, which got underway here on Thursday.

"We were waiting for it for a long time. It was a very proud moment for me to watch him being handed the Test cap by none other than the longest format legend (Cheteshwar) Pujara from the stands," Rao told this daily.

Once he settled down after all the initial excitement and jubilation, Bharat, in no time, gave him another happy moment, the very first ball of the second over of the match. India pacer Mohammed Siraj's delivery swung in to the left-hand Australian batter Usman Khawaja and hit his pad. The umpire was not impressed but India skipper Rohit Sharma immediately rushed towards the wicket-keeper Bharat to seek his opinion. Apparently convinced by Bharat's observations in a couple of seconds, Rohit asked for a review which yielded the hosts their first wicket.

In the second session, Rao got to witness Bharat's impressive glove work. A Ravindra Jadeja pitched around off stump, invited Marnus Labuschagne forward before bouncing past the outside edge. With the Australian well outside the crease, Bharat quickly broke the stumps to help stop a dangerous partnership of 82 between Labuschagne and Steve Smith. Though Rao would love to stay back for the remainder of the Test, he will leave before Friday morning. "I will leave tonight (Thursday night) as Andhra will be taking on hosts Maharashtra in their next match beginning in Pune on February 12. I have to be with the team," he added.

It's not only Bharat's coach, who is witnessing him donning India jersey from the stands. His parents, sisters and wife also reached Nagpur to see him in action.

Bharat was around nine when Rao took him under his wings. Speaking of his early days at the coaching centre in Visakhapatnam, the coach said, "He was very naughty and used to be noisy. He always used to be busy with some or other things, which also made me scold him at times."

It was not till he turned 19 that Bharat started keeping wickets for his state team regularly. It was Rao who convinced him to do so. Bharat became a regular feature of the India Test squad once Wriddhiman Saha went out of reckoning in early 2022. However, the presence of Rishabh Pant and his match-winning exploits meant the 29-year-old had to wait for his chance. With Pant in rehab after a car accident in December, Bharat was the first choice to don the keeper's gloves.

"Definitely it's a proud moment for Andhra, the state cricket association, players, coaches, groundsmen. It's a proud moment for each and everyone. It has been a long time for all of us," said the coach.

Rao also said the India debut will motivate other players from the state to take extra efforts and fulfill their dream of making a place in the national team. "It's a motivation for every Andhra player as now they can continue working hard and take their efforts to another level. If Bharat can represent the country, why can't they? Ours is a very small state. If you look at the ratio of Andhra players representing the country, it's very less. This (Bharat's debut) is a huge step forward for the state," signed off the coach.

Wrestlers make written submission before oversight panel

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

COUNTRY'S top wrestlers including Olympic medalists Bajrang Punia and Sakshi Malik and multiple World Championships medalist Vinesh Phogat met the oversight committee on Thursday. It was learnt that they also submitted their written complaints to the committee against the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) and its sidelined chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh.

The committee headed by Khel Ratna awardee MC Mary Kom, Chairperson, Athletes Commission of Indian Olympic Association, had met the wrestlers earlier too but Thursday's meeting could be its last with them. Now, the committee, which initially comprised five members before former wrestler Babita Phogat joined it, is expected to hear the federation and its embattled president before submitting a detailed report with the sports ministry. The committee was formed to enquire allegations of sexual misconduct, harassment, financial irregularities and administrative lapses levelled against Singh by prominent grapplers last month. The wrestlers had staged a three-day protest at Jantar Mantar in New Delhi from January 18 to 20 to raise their voice against the WFI chief following which the ministry formed the committee. It was directed to submit its report within four weeks.

"Wrestlers started reaching Sports Authority of India (SAI) headquarters in the morning. Almost all of them were present on Thursday except Ravi Dahia, who expressed his inability to join due to injury. He instead decided to present his case online," said a source in the know of the things. It is understood that apart from Bajrang, Vinesh and Sakshi, Worlds medalists Deepak Punia, Anshu Malik and Sarita Mor were also present at SAI office. "All six members of the committee were present. They had a detailed meeting with the grapplers, who in turn submitted their written complaints. The wrestlers met the committee members individually," said the source. The meeting went on till the evening. Other members of the committee are Khel Ratna awardee Yogeshwar Dutt, executive council member, IOA, Dhyan-chand awardee Trupti Murugde, member Mission Olympic Cell, Radhica Sreeman, ex-Executive Director, TEAMS, SAI, and Crd (Retd) Rajesh Rajagopalan, ex-CEO, Target Olympic Podium Scheme.

SAI seeks grapplers' nod for Egypt RS Meanwhile, the SAI has also approached the wrestlers asking their plans of competing in the Egypt Ranking Series scheduled from February 23 to 26.

The event will be the second of the four Ranking Series scheduled to be held this year.

Unavailability of top wrestlers coupled with visa issues meant India could field only a 15-member squad for the Zagreb Open Ranking Series held in Croatia from February 1 to 5. Indian managed only two medals at the event with Aman Sehrawat and Ashu clinching a bronze medal each in 57kg free-style and 67kg Greco-Roman competitions respectively.

Ranking Series provides wrestlers an opportunity to earn points, which in turn help them get seedings for the World Championships. The Worlds, scheduled in September, will also be the first qualifier for the 2024 Paris Olympics.
